Training programme on
"Electrical Hazards & Safety at Workplace"
From 07th to 09th Jan, 2025

DGFASLI is an attached office of the Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India and serves as a technical arm to assist the Ministry in formulating national policies on occupational safety and health in factories and docks. It also advises factories on various problems concerning safety, health, efficiency and well - being of the persons at workplaces.

ABOUT THE COURSE

Electricity is widely recognized as a serious workplace hazard, exposing employees to electric shock, burns, fires, and explosions. A variety of possible solutions may be implemented to reduce or eliminate the risk of injury associated with electrical work including the use of insulation, guarding, grounding, electrical protective devices, and safe work practices. This training programme has been designed to enrich knowledge and expertise of the participants in dealing with the prevention of electrical-related injuries, implementing proactive controls across the spectrum of expected hazards, educating the workers about electrical hazards and demonstrating the compliance to established standards.

The aim of the "Electrical Hazards & Safety at Workplace" program is to equip participants with the knowledge and skills necessary to identify, assess, and mitigate electrical hazards in the workplace. Through comprehensive training the program aims to promote a culture of safety, reduce the risk of electrical accidents, and ensure the well-being of employees and the integrity of the work environment.
