Training programme on 'OSH Management at Construction sites' from 18th-20th March 2025

ABOUT THE COURSE

Occupational Safety and Health Management (OSH) at construction sites is crucial for ensuring the safety and well-being of workers. Construction sites are among the most hazardous work environments due to factors such as heavy machinery, working at heights, exposure to toxic substances, and the physical nature of the work.

This program is designed to present to employees and employers a summary of the hazards, basic safety procedures & safeguards associated with Safety at construction sites.

Effective OSH management not only protects workers but also helps improve productivity, reduce costs, and comply with legal requirements.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of this Training programme is to elaborate the concept of OSH management at construction sites. This training program is intended to enable the participants to identify the hazards and assess the associated risks specific to construction related processes and prioritize them.
