Training programme on “SAFETY IN EXCAVATION &
TUNNELLING WORK”
(24th Sep 2025 to 26th Sep 2025)

ABOUT THE COURSE

In most cases the building or construction work starts with excavation. Excavation work generally means work involving the removal of soil or rock from a site to form an open face, hole or cavity, using tools, machinery or explosives. Excavation work includes work such as open excavations, potholing, pit excavations, trenches and retaining walls, etc.

The Indian standard 3764: 1992 lays down requirement for excavation and the safety code IS4756: 1978 lays down the standards for tunneling work. Excavation and tunneling are amongst the most dangerous operations in the construction industry. Dangers can include cave-ins, falling loads, hazardous atmospheres, and hazards from using heavy equipment. Therefore sound knowledge is the work is required to ensure the safety of the workers. This course will help the Supervisors in understanding the importance of soil classification, hazards associated with excavation and trenching work and preventive measure to be taken.

OBJECTIVE

The aim of this training is to equip the participants theoretical and practical knowledge to enable them to understand safety in excavation and trenching work. Gain Knowledge to identify the hazards and assess the risk, importance of soil classification, prevention of caving in, understand the ‘Permit to Work’ systems and the safe operating procedures. The course will provide knowledge of legal obligations contained within the OSHWC Code, 2020 and National standards for provision to ensure safe systems of work in excavation and tunneling work.
