About DGFASLI

DGFASLI is an attached office of the Ministry of Labour & Employment, Government of India and serves as a technical arm to assist the Ministry in formulating national policies on occupational safety and health in factories and docks. It also advises factories on various problems concerning safety, health, efficiency and well-being of the persons at work places.

Introduction

The India's construction industry is its second largest employer and contributor to the economy, after agriculture. The sector relies on unorganized labour and is the biggest job provider. At present the industry is witnessing a massive growth, which is posing great challenges to the safety and professionals.

The construction workers are exposed to high risks such as fall from height, struck by falling objects, electrocution, etc. The construction works involve specialized activities such as scaffolds, excavation, tunneling, etc. The construction industry is characterized by migrant labour, unskilled labour, heavy manual handling, multiplicity of agencies working at a time, use of heavy machinery and equipments, working at height, awkward postures, etc. Therefore, it is necessary that occupational safety and health systems are well managed and the same are checked for its efficacy and efficiency from time to time by conducting 'Safety Audits'
